JONAS HON AND HIS DESCENDANTS

Because some of the information herein has been from the memory of older members of these allied families, there are errors. It is probable there are also errors in copying because of hand written notes and because the copier does make some mistakes. It is hoped that this can be added to as time goes by and corrections made.

CARSON EDWARD HON

I, Carson E. Hon, was born Dec. 24, 1881 in Gibson Co., Indiana. My parents brought me to Texas when I was a year and a half old. I am the youngest son of Dr. Martin V. Hon born Feb. 8, 1839 in White County, Illinois. He was the son of Daniel Hon born Jan. 13, 1806 in White Co., Illinois. He was the son of Jacob Hon born 1785 in Nicholas Co., Kentucky. Jacob was the son of Jonas Hon and Mary Keathley. They were married in Pennsylvania and came to Nicholas Co., Kentucky in 1780. According to the dope I have, two brothers, Jonas and Joseph came to Pennsylvania from Hessen, Darmstadt, Germany about 1760 or 1765. Jonas was a Tory and Joseph fought with General Washington. It is generally believed they first spelled their name Horn, but Jonas dropped the "R" when he married. I am first cousin of C. O. Hon of Chattanooga, Tennessee. I was named for his father, Carson. He was named for the famous scout, Kit Carson, that scouted for General John C. Fremont.

PETER KEATHLEY HONN

Peter K. Honn is a retired farmer, residing in the village of Ashmore. His life is an example of what may be accomplished by courage, enterprise and industry, unaided by any other means. He was born July 22, 1814, in Nicholas Co., Kentucky and is the son of Daniel and Annie (Ebberman) Honn, the former is a native of Pennsylvania and the latter of Kentucky. Both are now deceased.

Peter K. Honn is one of the early pioneers of Illinois, having come to the State in 1835, he located at once in Ashmore Township, and bravely commenced a struggle with the wilderness without a cent in his pocket but possessed of a stout heart and strong hand, by which he has successfully carved his way to prosperity. He has given each of his children a valuable, well improved farm, and is also the owner of one himself, although he resides in the village. June 23, 1837 he married Miss Matilda Woods, a native of Madison Co., Kentucky born April 17, 1817. She is the daughter of Adam and Mary (Kerby) Woods, natives of Kentucky, where her father owned a fine farm. He died Oct. 1829 at the age of 45; his widow survived him many years and died in 1859 at the age of 72. She was a lady greatly beloved by her family and friends, and for many years had been a member of the Baptist Church. They had a family of nine children, the record of whom is as follows: William first married Miss Dorcas Gideon, he then married Miss Eliza Williamson and is now deceased; Tirza, who married Green Epperson is now a widow. He is a close student of all the topics of the day, social, religious and political, and having a logical turn of mind has been interested in investigating their various theories during the last forty years while occupying the pulpit of the Christian Church. He became a member of that religious denomination at the age of 15 and his wife united with the same church when 20 years of age. He is considered a reliable authority in regard to all doctrinal matters, and is also possessed of great judgement and tact in managing church difficulties. From boyhood he has been a faithful servant of the Master, and has administered the rite of baptism to many who have been led by him into the fold of Christ.

Mr. Honn has always been actively interested in the public affairs of the township and has held several positions on the official Board. In his early life he served as Postmaster three years. He was Chairman of the Board of Supervisors one year, and Vice President of the Agricultural Society three years, d has also been School Director and Trustee for many years. He has been reman of the Grand Jury for years and was Justice of the Peace four Terms; ring his entire life he has been one of the most important factors in the fairs of the township and county. Until the Civil War broke out he had en an old Kentucky Bourbon Democrat, but then he was a strong Union Man d subsequently joined the Republican Party, of which he is now a staunch pporter. He is warmly interested in the temperance cause, and has been tetotaler for 25 years. The life of Peter K. DANIEL WILLIAM HONN, SR.

Daniel W. Honn, Sr. occupies a little more than a quarter of section 16 in Ashmore Township where he has lived for nearly thirty years. During the long period of his residence here he has fully established himself in the esteem and confidence of the people of Coles County and has built up one of its most substantial homesteads. The fine dwelling standing in a prominent position is the admiration of the passing traveler, while the well filled barns and well kept stock denote the thrift and enterprise of the proprietor. Mr. Honn is a native of Kentucky, born in Nicholas County October 4, 1822, and is the son of Daniel and Annie (Eberman) Honn, also natives of the Blue Grass State. Daniel Honn, Sr. was a man of excellent Christian character and a member of the Reform Church in which he officiated as Deacon for many years, and also as local preacher. His brother Peter was also noted for his talents as a minister, to which he devoted the greater part of his life. The father of our subject did not live to old age, dying when about forty years of age on the 25th of June, 1826. He always had a love for the country life and was the owner of a good farm in Nicholas County where he spent the greater part of his time. He was twice married his second wife being the mother of our subject, and who died when sixty years of age on the 26th of August, 1857. The children born of this union were Hezekiah B; Peter K; Andrew E; Sarah A; Samuel D; Absalom C; Daniel W. of our sketch and Mare E. who died in infancy.

Our subject was reared on his father's farm and attended the common schools, remaining a member of the parental household until about 24 years of age. He was then married August 26, 1846 to Miss Nancy E. Hook, a native of his own county and born June 10, 1828. Her parents, Mathias and Matilda (Huddleson) Hook, were also natives of Kentucky. The mother died in Kentucky March 2, 1851. The parental household included but two daughters, twins. Mary A., the sister of Mrs. Honn, married Harrison Parker and died at the home of her husband in Nicholas County, Kentucky August 11, 1851. Her only child died at the same time.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Honn, eleven in number, are recorded as follows:

Their two children were Rolla N. born in Jan. 1882 and died Aug. 10, 1884, and Jesse A. born May 31, 1883. Mr. Schulse was a farmer by occupation and a member in good standing of the Christian Church.
5. John B.
6. George D. married Miss Emma R. Geyer Feb. 16, 1882. She is a native of Illinois born in 1864. She has become the mother of two children, Lilly W. born July 5, 1883 and Leonard O, June 24, 1886. They live on a good farm in Ashmore Township.
7. Andrew J. was born April 16, 1860 and died June 12, 1865.
8. Sarah R., born September 18, 1862, died June 12, 1865.

11. Jesse A. born July 12, 1868 was married Sept. 9, 1886 to Miss Mary E. Kearns and they have one child, William J., born June 6, 1887.

Honn left his native state in 1858, coming directly to this county and afterwards locating upon the land which constitutes his present homestead. First purchased 120 acres to which he afterward added forty-five and in addition to general farming is breeding Poland China hogs of the very best quality. He has held the office of School Director in this township, is a staunch Democrat politically, and religiously a prominent member of the Christian Church. He has officiated as Elder for a period of fourteen years and has always been greatly interested in Sunday School work, giving to it much time as Superintendent for many years. He has also been Clerk and is one of the chief pillars among the brethren, who would scarcely know how to do without him.

El W. Honn, Jr., the son of our subject, is a gentleman of fine education and a minister of the Christian Church, occupying the pulpit in Dana and Dell. He is still, however, pursuing his studies in the college at Lexington. He was united in marriage with Miss Gertrude Wood, daughter of J. and Delila F. PETER KEATHLEY HON

✓ "Brother Peter Hon, whose home was near here was one of the greatest gospel preachers. He was of old German-Dutch descent and could preach in the Dutch language as well as in English. His Bible was printed in both languages. He was the grandfather of the late Robert M. Coons and great-grandfather of G. Egbert Coons of Mt. Sterling and Ollie Coons of Lexington." ✓
Mrs. A. C. Quisenberry says, "I remember him later when he became too frail to serve in the pulpit, as sitting in his big arm chair in front of the altar teaching words of wisdom." ✓

ALBERT HON

Albert went with his cousin William Walter Reed to Fall River, Kansas and eventually became a farmer in Greenwood County, Kansas, where he lived near Fall River and Severy until his death. Some 40 years after leaving Kentucky he still retained his hillbilly dialect and referred to his Aunt Sarah Hon Reed as "Aint Sairey". He was in the apiary business with stands of bees scattered over a wide area in and near Severy. Each year he produced tons of honey which he packaged and sold throughout southeastern Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri. He was a friendly and sociable man whose conversation, being confined to bee culture and the marketing of honey, could ramble on into the small hours of the morning, and the uninitiated could never know how much mileage can be wrung out of such a restricted subject.

ISAAC HON

Isaac Hon was born in Bath County, Kentucky, February 14, 1842. His parents, J. C. and Elizabeth L. (Hawkins) Hon, were both Kentuckians by birth. Isaac Hon accompanied his parents to Missouri in 1855, and located in Cass County on the farm where the family now reside. The youth of the subject of this sketch was spent on his father's farm and during the winter months attending the subscription school. He was married at the age of twenty-two years, December 29, 1864, to Miss Elizabeth Bailey, daughter of Wiley Bailey. She was born in Call County. After his marriage Mr. Hon settled on a farm and has since devoted his time to farming and stock raising. He moved to his present place in the spring of 1882, and now has a fine tract of land consisting of over 100 acres, with 80 improved, a good new house and a fine orchard. He resides on section 2. Mr. and Mrs. Hon have three children: Harvey T., born February 18, 1867; William W., born December 16, 1868, and Earl, born July 6, 1881. They mourn the loss of one child, a daughter, Lucy L. Hon, who was born November 29, 1865; and she died in January, 1866. They are members of the Christian Church. Mr. Hon enlisted in the Confederate service in the fall of 1862, in Colonel Lewis' regiment, and was in the army about one year, participating in the battle of Lexington, Missouri.

DANIEL K. HON

Daniel K. Hon was born near Mt. Sterling Kentucky in 1829 and spent his entire life in his home community. He was a wealthy farmer who lived in the manner usually associated with slave-owning gentry. It has been said that one of his specialities was the breeding of fine horses. This love of horse flesh seems to have been passed on to his daughter, Sarah Hon (Reed) and through her to some of her children, especially her son William Walter Reed. Daniel K. Hon was opposed to his daughter's marriage to Peter Hon Reed. The expression of this opposition was undoubtedly a motivating factor in Peter and Sarah's move to Missouri where they established a temporary home. Daniel relented in due course, however, and endowed them with sufficient funds to purchase 80 acres of land in Nemaha County, Kansas where their permanent home was established. Daniel Hon died on September 3, 1894 and was buried near Napoleon, Kentucky. His widow, the former Margaret Coons, continued to live in the old community surrounded by her large family. She did so in an industrious and independent manner. Following is a letter written by Daniel K. Hon and one written by Margaret Coons Hon to her granddaughter Emma Leila (Reed) Mulliken after the death of Leila's husband, Albert Mulliken.

Mr. William Hon

Dear Cousin:

I received your welcome letter and proceed to answer and not do like I did before. We are all well at present and getting along as usual. We have had one of the driest summers we ever saw but it has been raining now for two or three days and nights. The creek is running once more. We are building a pike by our house, runs through our yard, garden and barn lot. Have the rock all hauled. I will now answer your questions: We had an infant born March 1st, 1849 - died March 15th of the same month. Sallie Hon was born Aug. 19, 1850, married to Peter Hon Reed Oct. 1st, 1869 - live in Nemaha Co., Kansas, P.O. Soldier, Jackson Co., Kansas. John W. Hon born April 29, 1853 - married to Lucy Lindsey May 3rd, 1878, P.O. Glencoe, Gallatin Co., Kentucky. Peter S. Hon born Nov. 3, 1854 married to Lilly Russell Dec. 23, 1880, P. O. Napoleon, Gallatin Co., Kentucky. Lula M. Hon born July 20, 1857 died in Texas July 30, 1885. Lucetta Hon born Sept. 7, 1859 - married to Joseph Spencer Dec. 8, 1881, P.O. Sugar Creek, Gallatin Co., Kentucky. Fanny Hon born July 30, 1862 - died Sept. 7, 1881; Elijah C. Hon born July 8, 1864 - not married; Joseph Hon born March 12, 1873; Serepta Pearl Hon born Feb. 9, 1876.

I received a letter from you in May last in which you asked me several questions. I could not answer questions about my grandfather and brothers and when born, which I did not know. Probably you have got that from Brother Levi or someone else. Now if there is anything else you want to know that I can answer I will take pleasure in doing so if nothing happens I want to go up to the city in a short time.

Your cousin,
D.K. Hon

HISTORY OF THE HONN FAMILY OF
COLES COUNTY, ILLINOIS. 1676 - 1938

Genealogical Record of the Honn family which settled in Coles County, Illinois. Compiled by Mamie Honn in collaboration with her Mother, Mary Louisa Honn nee Zimmerman.

FORWARD

In compiling this history I have endeavored to put down the facts as accurately as is humanly possible, in order that a true record of our ancestry may be preserved.

The gathering of a family history is an arduous and time consuming task. Nevertheless it is a labor of love, in the anticipation of the satisfaction that future generations will have in the reading of it and learning of their early ancestry.

I send it out with a prayer that, in pondering it, the reader may be inspired with a just pride of ancestry, because of the Christian ideals our forefathers have always striven to uphold.

History of the Honn Family

December 1938

Reliable data concerning our earliest ancestors in America are very meager at this time. Family traditions handed down orally, say that the first of the name to emigrate to this country were Adam Hon and Peter K. Hon, who were German Baptist or Dunkard preachers. In 1696, a period in German history when the country was torn with wars, these two preachers, supposedly brothers, emigrated from Frankfurt, Germany and settled in Pennsylvania, probably in the vicinity of what was later Chester County. Those early war weary Germans, migrating to Pennsylvania from their war ravaged homes, spoke the German tongue of their homeland and the language was handed down from mouth to mouth for many generations.

Absolom Carter Hon, one of the pioneers who settled in Illinois in 1858 and his wife conversed with one another in the German tongue.

The Dunkards wore a distinctive dress. The women wore close fitting bonnets and shawls, and broad brimmed hats shaded bearded masculine faces. They fastened their clothes with hooks and eyes and never used a button.

Later these two preachers, Adam and Peter K. Hon, moved to Virginia. Peter K. Hon II was born in Virginia in 1712, and moved to Kentucky about 1720. He was married in 1735 to Matilda Schultz and later to Catherine Bramlet. The children were: Adam, Jonas, Andrew, Isaac, William and Peter K. Isaac and Jonas of this family were preachers, and preached in Dutch and German. Isaac had two preacher sons, Peter and Daniel.

Peter was a Dunkard preacher, and was born October 1791 and died March 21, 1876. He was married Feb. 25, 1808, and had ten children. He was buried in East Union cemetery near Carlisle, Kentucky. He preached in Dutch and German. The early court records in Nigholas county show that he married more couples than any other preacher between 1819 and 1855.

The record of Daniel will appear in subsequent pages.

The records show that Bible names were given male members of the early Honn families, almost without exception, the ones most highly favored being John and Peter.

There is a fragment of history taken from a volume entitled "Kentucky Pioneers", written by J. A. Thomas of Carlisle, Kentucky, Carlisle being the county seat of Nicholas County where the pioneer home of our ancestor Daniel Honn was located. The fragment follows:

"On or about the year of 1800 a number of families came from Virginia to Kentucky and located in the east end of Bourbon county, and the south part of Nicholas county. They were all members of the German Baptist church, known as the Dunkard church. They built a church at the forks of Somers Creek, in Nicholas County, which they named East Union. They spoke the German language. Their Bibles were printed in German and they sang and preached in German.

The family names were: Blount, Hon (spelled Hahn in German), Molar, Crose, and Shrought. Among the first preachers were Jonas Hon (or Hahn) and Abraham Shrought, the former was a brother of our ancestor Isaac Hon, and the later was one of the great grandfathers of the compiler. As above stated they preached in the German Language. My Mother told me when she was about six years old she went to the East Union church with her Grandmother. When they were near the church, they washed their feet in the creek and put on their shoes, which they had carried in their hands from home. Being thus "diked out" they went on to church where they found the men seated on one side and the women on the other. When the preaching was over a number of wash pands and towels were brought forward and the women washed each other's feet, while the men did likewise. The members of the Dunkard church were strictly opposed to going to war or fighting in a battle, hence they took no part in the American Revolution, and their descendants cannot be members of the Daughters of the American Revolution."

Whether the foregoing statement concerning this branch of Honns and the American Revolution is correct or not, the compiler has not been able to determine. However, the Pennsylvania State Library contains records of a number of Honns who served in this war from Pennsylvania.

The authentic history of the Coles County, Illinois, branch of the Honn family begins with Daniel Hon, who was a native of Kentucky or Pennsylvania, it is not certainly known which. As stated before, he was the son of the preacher, Isaac Hon and a brother of Peter Hon, the Dunkard preacher. The Coles County History says that, "he was a man of excellent Christian character and a member of the Reformed Church, in which he officiated for many years, as Deacon, and also as a local preacher. He always had a love for country life, and was the owner of a good farm in Nicholas County, where he spent the greater part of his time."

He was born about 1786. He was twice married, his second wife being Annie Ebberman who was born in 1797 in Nicholas County, Kentucky, and died August 26, 1857, she being sixty years of age. They were married as nearly as can be determined in 1810. Daniel Hon died June 25, 1826, being only about forty years of age.

It is interesting to note here, that his wife Annie, was only twenty-nine years of age at the time of his death and was left with a family of seven children, the youngest only one and one-half months old, and the oldest about fourteen years of age. Too much credit cannot be given this brave pioneer Mother who, with fortitude and Christian faith, brought up her fatherless children in the fear and admonition of the Lord.

In the month of August of the present year (1938), James Wilbur Honn and his wife Winona and his Mother, Mrs. Wda Cuyler Honn, visited the old Honn homestead in Nicholas County, Kentucky. They found the cemetery in the churchyard of the old

East Union church where many of the Honn ancestors are buried. Mrs. Winona Honn has given me the following: "To go to the Honn homestead, go straight on from East Union (West), cross a bridge, then turn in at second gate. As we went up through the field we crossed a creek (no bridge, just rock bottom). The barn lot was all rock it seemed. Mr. Sam Heiser who lives there now, said the middle room was a log room, but now had been sealed and sided, then other rooms built to it. He showed us under one corner which was dug back into the hill and sided up with rocks. This, he had been told was the negro quarters. There were two old log buildings on the place. He said they may have been barns years ago". Just as we left East Union going west and at the foot of the hill, we found the old graveyard and the place where the old East Union church stood. One woman we talked to, remembered as a child that this brick church was torn down and a frame church built at the top of the hill just at the edge of East Union. We stopped at the graveyard, but there was so much poison ivy we did not look far, but did find the stone of a Peter Hon born October 1791, died March 21, 1876. We could see where the foundation of the old church was.

The following is a certified copy of the Will of Daniel Honn from the Nicholas County Court records:

"In the name of God, Amen, the fifteenth day of March, 1826, I, Daniel Honn, of Nicholas County and State of Kentucky, being weak in body, but of sound mind and disposing memory, for which I thank God, and calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this my last will and testament. First of all I give and recommend my Soul into the hands of God who gave it and my body to the earth to be buried in a decent and Christian like manner, and being desirous to dispose of all my worldly estate as it has pleased God to bless me with in this life, I give, devise and dispose of in the manner following:

I desire that all my just debts and funeral expenses be paid out of money on hands. After my debts and funeral expenses are paid, I give to my wife, Anny Honn, all my estate, both real and personal, during the time that she continues a widow, but if she should marry again, then in that case only one-third part of my estate, both real and personal, during her natural life, and in the balance of the perishable part of my estate to be sold and the money arising thence from to be laid out for the support of my children, and after her decease I give the whole of my estate, both real and personal, to my children here-in-after to be named, to be divided among them equally and enjoyed by them forever. After my wife's decease, I desire that the plantation be rented out and the money arising therefrom to be paid out for the education and support of all of my children until the youngest child becomes of age, and after that the land to be sold and all the money arising therefrom, and what may have arisen from the sale of the perishable of my estate not made use of, shall be equally divided among my children, to wit: Hezekiah Blount Honn, Peter Keathley Honn, Sally Ann Honn, Andrew Eberman Honn, Samuel Davis Honn, Absolom Carter Honn, Daniel William Honn, and one yet unborn, which I give them, their executors, Administrators and assigns forever."

"And lastly I do hereby constitute and appoint my friends, Jacob Baker and Hezekiah B. Honn as executors of this my last will and testament, hereby revoking all others or former wills or testaments by me heretofore made."

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this fifteenth day of March, 1826.

/s/ Daniel Honn (Seal)

Signed, sealed, published and delivered as and for the last will and testament of the above named Daniel Honn, in the presence of us.

/s/ James Quiett /s/ Peter Honn

Nicholas County Sct. - July term, 1826. This instrument of writing purporting to be the last will and testament of Daniel Hon deceased, was this day produced in open court, and proven by the oaths of James Quiett and Peter Hon, subscribing witnesses thereto, and ordered to be recorded, which is done accordingly.

Attest: /s/ Horace Metcalfe, C.N.C.C.

A true copy Attest: /s/ John F. Sugg, Clerk. Nicholas County, Kentucky.

The record of the sale of the plantation, referred to in the will of Daniel Hon, was found in the court records of Nicholas County as follows: The farm comprised 141½ acres of land. It was sold thirty-one years after the will was made, on Nov. 2, 1857, for the sum of $5,402.16 to John N. Reed and son George Reed. The Reeds owned this tract until about twenty years ago. At the present time Sam Heizer owns part of this land, and he paid $50.00 per acre for it.

Other land records found by James Wilbur Honn and his wife Winona, at the Nicholas County Court House are: Jonas Hon bought land from Foyler 1820. Peter Hon bought land from Thomas Wilson 1842, also from Thomas Moore. Samuel D. Hon bought land from Court House Door 1846. Absolom Hon sold land in 1856. Peter Hon bought land from Moore 1852; also from Moore 1855.

History about the first son, Hezekiah Blount Hon, is very meager at this time. He was probably born about 1812. He was married to Miranda Beck and they had one daughter Margaret, who married James Ellington and died young. She had no children. I have not been able to find the date of the death of Hezekiah but he had died before the sale of his father's estate in 1857 in Kentucky.

The second son Peter Keathley Hon, was a man of much prominence, in Coles County, and history has a great deal to say about him. He was born July 22, 1814, in Nicholas County, Kentucky, near Carlisle. At the time of his father's death he was only twelve years of age. He passed his early years on a farm, and at the age of eighteen began the trade of a blacksmith. In 1835 he decided to follow Horace Greeley's advice, "Go west young man, Go west", and accordingly joined the family of Jeremiah Powell, and with them made the journey to Illinois with a horse team and two ox teams; they stopped in Edgar County where Mr. Powell settled. After spending a short time in Edgar County and about six months in Sangamon County, working at his trade he came in 1836, at the age of twenty-two years, to Hitesville and opened a blacksmith shop. This was twenty-two years before any of his brothers came to Illinois. He was married on June 22, 1837, to Matilda Woods, who was born in Madison County, Kentucky, April 19, 1817 and died in Ashmore, Illinois, April 15, 1891. About five years later he purchased a quarter section of land and later bought other lands. In 1875 he retired to Ashmore, Illinois. At the age of fifteen he became a member of the Christian Church and afterwards was ordained a minister. He was actively interested in the public affairs of the township and county. He held many township offices; was postmaster three years, chairman of the Board of Supervisors one year; vice president of the Agricultural Society for three years, school director and trustee for many years; foreman of the Grand Jury many years and Justice of the Peace four terms.

My parents remember him very well. In his travels on horseback, which was the common mode of getting from place to place, he wore a long black broadcloth cape that reached to his knees and sometimes in the coldest weather he wore a gray plaid shawl. He was a fine looking man and dressed well. He died in Ashmore, July 30, 1893, at the age of seventy-nine. He was the father of six children all born in Illinois as follows: William Sanford born October 12, 1838; died Oct. 24, 1912. Martha Ann born February 27, 1844; died May 16, 1919. Peter Keathley born September 3, 1847; died May 30, 1872. Sarah Emma born July 12, 1849; died February 22m 1909. Samuel Henry born March 23, 1853; died January 1, 1922. Mary Ellen born September 2, 1856; died April 6, 1937.

The third child of Daniel and Annie Honn was a daughter, Sarah Ann, known as Aunt Sally in her later days in Illinois. She was born Dec. 24, 1815 in Nicholas County, Kentucky. She never married but remained at home with her Mother to be a comfort and solace to her in her declining years. After her mother's death she made her home with her sister Martha Shulse, coming to Illinois with her in 1858. She owned forty acres of land. She died September 22, 1886 at the age of seventy.

The fourth child of Daniel and Annie Honn and Annie Honn was Andrew Eberman. He was born about 1817, and must have died young in Kentucky. I have not been able to find his record.

The fifth child of Daniel and Annie Honn was Samuel Davis (the compiler's grandfather) who was born January 5, 1819 in Nicholas County, Kentucky. During his early life school advantages were very limited, and his education was obtained very largely by observation and experience. He was married February 8, 1844 in Kentucky to Hannah ShROUT who was born near Sharpsburg in Bourbon County, Kentucky, October 21, 1821, and died at Kansas, Illinois, April 23, 1894 at the age of seventy three years.

In 1857 he left his home in Lexington, Kentucky and set out on horseback, making the journey to Illinois alone. He came to the home of his brother Beter Keathley, who lived about six miles southwest of Kansas at Hitesville. He was well enough pleased with the country that the next year he went back and brought his family, and they were accompanied by his brother-in-law Abram Shulse and his family. They arrived by covered wagon at Hitesville early in November 1858, and six months later moved to a farm he had purchased on November 8, 1858 in Oakland township, where he lived until he retired to Kansas, Illinois, in 1875. He purchased land from time to time until he became a large landholder. History says he lived a public spirited and honorable life and was highly respected by all who knew him. He was always interested in promoting the cause of religion, and, with his wife, was a member of Prairie Union church. He died on April 24, 1888, at the age of sixty-nine. He was the father of nine children, only one of whom survives, James Robinson Honn (the father of the compiler of this history) The children are as follows: Andrew Eberman born November 11, 1844 in Kentucky: died June 3, 1845 in Kentucky. Sarah Elizabeth, born April 30, 1846, in Kentucky: died July 6, 1877 in Illinois. Abraham George born May 6, 1847 in Kentucky: died December 7, 1934 in Illinois. Anna Jane born August 4, 1849 in Kentucky: died March 13, 1880 in Illinois. William Keathley born December 17, 1851 in Kentucky: died June 17, 1919 in Illinois. Melissa Harriet born January 28, 1854 in Kentucky: died December 23, 1927 in Indiana. John Davis born September 11, 1857 in Kentucky: died June 26, 1930 in Illinois. James Robinson born November 20, 1860 in Illinois: died Jan. 7, 1941. Samuel Joseph born May 13, 1863 in Illinois: died Feb. 14, 1876 in Illinois.

The sixth child of Daniel and Annie Honn was Absalom Carter who was born in Nicholas County, Kentucky, August 21, 1820. In 1841 he was married to Miranda Mohler, who was born near Carlisle, Kentucky, January 25, 1822., and died October 18, 1908 near Humboldt, Illinois. In 1858 he came to Illinois and settled near Westfield in Coles County on November 11th. By honesty and industry he accumulated a considerable amount of property. He moved in November 1862 to Seven Hickory Township where he lived until his death. He is spoken of as a very kindly man and good to everybody. He died July 22, 1893. He was the father of twelve children only one of whom survives, Absalom Alexander. The children are as follows:

Mary Jane	born June 5, 1844 in Kentucky: died January 3, 1908 in Illinois
Peter Dudley
Isaac Farrah	born October 18, 1848 in Kentucky: died July 20, 1928 in Ill.

Rettie	born : died October 8, 1885
Margaret	born : died about 1883
Morena Ann	born January 12, 1858 in Kentucky: died March 12, 1880 in Ill.

 Joseph Abraham born October 11, 1862 in Illinois: died Nove. 3, 1901 in Illinois.
 William Lee died in infancy. One died not named.

The seventh child of Daniel and Annie Honn was Daniel William, born October 4, 1822, in Nicholas County, Kentucky. At the age of twenty-four he married Nancy E. Hook, on August 26, 1846. She was born June 10, 1828 in Nicholas County, Kentucky: died March 19, 1907, being seventy-eight years of age. He came to Illinois in 1858 and settled in Coles County, Ashmore Township. He first purchased one hundred and twenty acres of land to which he afterwards added forty-five. During the long period of his residence he fully established himself in the esteem and confidence of the people of Coles County, and built up one of its most substantial homesteads. He officiated as elder in the Prairie Union Church for a period of fourteen years and was always interested in Sunday-school work, giving it of his time as Superintendent for many years. He also held the office as Clerk. He died April 24, 1894, being seventy-two years of age. He was the father of twelve children, only two of whom survive, John Breckenridge and Jesse Albert. The children are as follows:

Clarinda Frances born June 26, 1848 in Kentucky: died Jan. 23, 1922 in Illinois
 Eliza Ann born Oct. 6, 1848 in Kentucky: died June 13, 1889 in Illinois.

 Andrew Jackson born April 16, 1860 in Illinois: died 1865 in Illinois.
 Sarah Rosetta born Sept. 18, 1862 in Illinois: died October 12, 1863 in Illinois.
 Daniel William Jr. born Sept. 2, 1864 in Illinois. Died July 7, 1925 in Calif.
 Matilda Margaret born May 16, 1866 in Illinois: died July 11, 1868 in Illinois.
 Jesse Albert born July 12, 1868 in Illinois.

The eighth child of Daniel and Annie Honn, Martha Jane, was born May 9, 1827 in Nicholas County, Kentucky. She married Abram J. Shulse on August 5, 1852 in Nicholas County, Kentucky. He was born October 17, 1827 and died March 8, 1894. They removed to Coles County, Illinois in November 1858 and the following spring settled in Ashmore Township. She was an invalid for many years and died January 2, 1890 at the age of sixty-three. There were no children.

The Coles County History of 1879 says: "Mr. Shulse owns a fine farm improved with good buildings, shrubbery, orchards and miles of Osage Orange hedge, which in summer presents a most beautiful appearance. It occupies a commanding location, affording a fine view of the surrounding country."

After Abram Shulse's death this farm was purchased by the compiler's father, James R. Honn, and he, with his family, have lived on it ever since. On Sept. 13, 1936 the first annual reunion of the Honn family was held at Kansas, Illinois. At this meeting the Historian read a brief history of the Honn family, and beginning with the first to immigrate to this country, gave the five generations that have passed on, namely Peter K. Hon I, Peter K. Hon II, Isaac Hon, Daniel Hon and Samuel Davis Hon; then called to the platform, to represent the sixth, seventh and eighth generation of this family, her father James Robinson Honn, her brother Cecil Zimmerman Honn, her nephew John Cecil Honn.

Note the predominance of Bible names which in this line have continued to the present generation.

The Coles County branch of the Honn family has had preachers of the Gospel in every generation except one, for eight generations. The "Christian Standard" in its Issue of April 13, 1918, has on the front page an article entitled, "Restoration Pioneers-The Honn Family".

It reads as follows: The Pioneer flame has ever burned high in the family of Honn (or Honn as the name is spelled today) for many generations. Comforts and indulgences of material existence have ever been of slight worth in their eyes, compared to the development of sturdy manhood, of fear and reverence toward God and of devotion to the preaching of his word. The Revolutionary War had just begun when Peter Daniel Honn was born in a little Pennsylvania village. A short time before, some of the neighbors had followed Daniel Boone into the wilds of Kentucky, where they were the first settlers. When Peter was but a little fellow, his parents and their kinspeople made the perilous journey into that Indian-infested frontier-land. In this setting of rugged surroundings, Peter grew into manhood. His one book was the Bible and this he knew from cover to cover. Even before the Campbells began their work, he had declared that the Bible alone was his rule of faith and practice. For more than fifty years this sturdy pioneer served the same congregation in Kentucky without salary. The latter fact left him free for his missionary journeys. On horseback he would travel for weeks at a time, stopping at every settlement to preach the Gospel.

For years the name of 'Uncle Peter' was a household word in the homes of the brethren of the middle-west. There was always a royal welcome awaiting him when he rode up to a log house, took his well worn Bible from the saddlebags and came ~~an~~ unexpectedly to spend the night. He is remembered as a man of strong faith, enthusiasm for the plea, and of industry and sturdiness of purpose. (This man was a brother of our ancestor Daniel Honn).

With the lives of George Huffstutter Honn, Ulrich Huffstutter Honn and Matthew Morgan Honn, the three preacher sons of John Honn of Bourbon County, Kentucky, the story of the Honn family shifts to southern Indiana, where the family settled at Bradford in about 1816.

George, the eldest, preached the Gospel in Indiana for more than forty years, devoting his entire life to the ministry. He was a magnetic speaker, always drawing large audiences, and was a close reasoner and skillful debater. He won many souls to the Kingdom. He died at Orleans, Indiana in 1874. Ulrich also preached for many years in the vicinity of Bradford. In later life he retired from the ministry to 'Keep Store'. He was a man of exceptional energy and honesty, and as 'Squire Honn' was known and respected throughout the countryside. He died at Bradford in 1875.

Mathew Honn was a tentmaker. During the week he farmed and on Sundays he preached wherever he was needed. He was a remarkable Bible student. He had committed the Book to memory until, on hearing a verse repeated, he could place it correctly and recite the surrounding verses. His last utterance was 'I have always believed in the Lord'.

Peter Keathley Honn, another of the Nicholas County, Kentucky Honns, was born in 1814. When twenty-two he moved to Hitesville, Illinois, where he combined the duties of blacksmith and preaching for many years. He served churches in Clark, Edgar and Coles counties, but never received a salary. At the time of his death, in 1893, a host of Brethren testified that through his preaching of the Word, they had been brought into the Kingdom.

Of the three Honn preachers now at work among the Disciples of Christ, Daniel W. Honn is the senior. He was reared in a Christian Home near Kansas, Illinois. His father was Elder and practically founder of the old Prairie Union Church. At the age of seventeen he gave his heart to Christ and dedicated his life to the Ministry. The next fall he entered Eureka College. He has served as Minister in churches at Tuscola, Mt. Sterling, Eldora, New Hartford in Illinois; Morocco and West Lebanon in Indiana; and Modesto, Visalia, Sawtelle, Brea and West Side Los Angeles, Calif. He has also spent much time in the Evangelistic field, and is a gifted Gospel singer, as well as a preacher. At present he is residing at Los Angeles, California, but is ever ready to assist Churches in evangelistic work. (Compiler's note: He went to his reward July 7, 1925.).

W. Percy and Robert Arthur Honn are sons of Andrew, A. Honn and wife, pioneer residents of Arcola, Illinois. The parents, in their zeal for the cause gave a large lot from the corner of the farm and also of their means for the erection and maintenance of a house of worship, for the community. (Compiler's note: This church is called 'Walnut Grove') Here the Word was studied and fully obeyed by their children. The passion for soul saving became intense in the hearts of the two brothers. In 1913 both graduated from Johnson Bible College.

W. Percy Honn has made his specialty the reviving of abandoned churches in the villages near his boyhood home. Already he has seen two congregations revived. At the beginning of 1915 he took work at Farmer City, Illinois. Here the church has grown to a membership of well over four hundred under his leadership.

Robert Arthur Honn has served the churches at Johnson City, Illinois, Maryville, Tennessee and California and Pennsylvania. He has been exceptionally successful in bringing men and women to accept Christ. He is a credit to the heritage which is his from his pioneer ancestry, and to the brotherhood with which the Honn family has always been so closely identified."

The foregoing article does not include the name of Andrew Lee Honn, another preacher son of Andrew A. Honn, who graduated from Illinois Wesleyan University and became an ordained minister in the Methodist Episcopal church; he served as Chaplain during the World War and has since served many churches throughout this section of Illinois.

A. Burton Clark, a grandson of Andrew A. Honn, is continuing the line of preachers in the Honn family by becoming an ordained minister in the Christian Church. He continues to serve with credit to the Honn name, churches in the state of Illinois, being located at present at the church in West Frankfort.

Reference was made in the history quoted from the "Christian Standard" to the Prairie Union Church. This church was founded by the Honns who settled in the southeast corner of Oakland Township and the northeast corner of Ashmore Township in Coles County, Illinois. The church was located a short distance west of the old Samuel Davis Honn homestead in Oakland township. The old building still stands, although it has not been used for church services for some time. The "Coles County History of 1879 gives the following record of the church; "Prairie Union Church was organized in the neighborhood schoolhouse, March 1, 1871 with thirty-two members. The three Elders were Samuel Davis Honn, Daniel William Honn and Abram Shulze. The first preacher was Columbus Boyer. The church, built and dedicated the same year the society was organized, 1871, and cost one thousand eight hundred and thirty dollars, not including the lot on which it stands. The lot was a part of the Eli Mills farm. Previous to the erection of the church the people of the neighborhood attended divine worship in the village of Kansas and at the Methodist church in the neighborhood called Prairie Chapel; also in the neighborhood school house which was located just across the road from where the church now stands.

It has been said that the doctor is as much or more a public servant than the preacher. He this as it may, it is well that those of the Honn family who have spent their lives in such self sacrificing professions have a place in the annals of this history. So far the compiler knows only two have followed this profession. Both were distinguished looking men, and very successful in the practice of medicine.

Dr. Samuel Henry Honn, son of the pioneer Peter Keathley Honn was born in Ashmore Township, Coles County, Illinois, March 23, 1853 and died at Metcalf, Illinois, January 1, 1922. He practiced medicine at Metcalf until his health failed, then conducted a drugstore until his death.

Dr. William Milton Honn, the son of Isaac and Cornelia Hannah (Wright) Honn, and the grandson of the pioneer Absalom Carter Hon, was born near Hindsboro, Illinois, November 15, 1873, and died at Champaign, Illinois, May 7, 1938.

In an early day our forefathers came to this section of Illinois and endured the privations and untold hardships of pioneer life, in order that their children might have a chance to live a more satisfying life. Their hopes and visions included not alone material prosperity for them, but a plan for spiritual living, evidenced by the building of the churches and maintaining of Divine worship in their midst, in order that religious influences might surround and uplift them. They builded a bridge for us.

Note: The little book ends by quoting the poem, "The Builder", which I will not add to this script, as you are no doubt familiar with it.

HISTORY OF BOURBON, SCOTT, HARRISON AND NICHOLAS COUNTIES, KENTUCKY, 1882

East Union is located at the S.W. part of the (Union) precinct on the Moorefield and East Union Pike. The Church is of the Christian denomination, it is a frame building and cost about $2,500 and has a large flourishing congregation. The Dunkards had a Church composed of three families who came from the Carolinas named Hahn, Schultz, and Accerman - Peter Hahn officiating as pastor, and under whose ministrations the Church prospered, having at one time about 400 members. They built a log Church, which has moldered into decay and stood near where now stands the Christian Church.

The Church of the Brethren originated in Schwarzenau, Germany in 1708. The first Brethren came to this country in 1719. Prior to 1908, the denomination was known as the German Baptist Brethren.

A George Friedrich Hohn came to America in 1749 on the ship Fane. In 1790 there was a John Hohn head of a family in Lancaster County, Penn. A William & a John Honn in Chester County, Penn.

From War Dept. Adj. General's office: "The name of John Hon has not been found on the records on file in this office of soldiers in the Rev. War. from Penn. The collection of Rev. War records is far from complete."

George Friedrich Hohn came to America in 1749 on the ship "Fave". There was a John Hon served in the London-Brittain Township Company, Chester Co., Milita, War of the Revolution. - Ref. Penn. Archives, 5th series, vol 5, pg. 526. There were several men named Hon-Hone who saw service in the War. of Rev. John Honn (Haun, Hohn) was a resident of London-Britain Twp, Chester Co., in 1779. He owned over 200 acres of land. His name appears upon the tax lists of 1781, but not upon our next tax lists which are 1785. It is probable he died between the given dates. An examination of the court records at West Chester, Chester Co., probably will indicate if he died or sold his property. In case of death in Chester Co., the names of his children should appear in the settlement of his estate. There was a John Honn living in Donegal Twp, Lancaster Co., and a man by the same name in Northampton County.

From the History of White County, Illinois. "A young man, a Hon, who lived in Phillipstown came to town (Crossville?), he stayed at Mrs. Burnell's house for the night; he died of cholera 10 hours later. He was nursed by his sisters, Mrs. Ray and Miss Hon and by his brother. Ten days after he died Aug. 9th, 1873, Mrs. Ray died (could be dates they became ill, not died).

August 12th the brother became sick but recovered. August 15th Miss Honn became ill and died. (note from Nancy Hon Westerfield: "I think the Mrs. Ray was Sarah Hon; I remember seeing Sarah Ray's stone in the Little Wabash Cemetery near the Hon's. I didn't copy it because I didn't think there was any connection. The Hon and Bell families are buried next to each other in Phillipstown.)

From Walter J. Hon, Mt. Sterling, Ky, Jan. 4, 1964:

"I have some news for you. Joseph Hon and Mary Nodler Hon, the senior, Mary died 9/20/1834 & Joseph 1/1/1835. He is our line. They lived in Kentucky before 1800. Never settled in Ohio - just stopped for awhile. Joseph Hon, Jr. b. 5/8/1774 d. 6/8/1859 & Nellie Ellinor Cave b. 3/30/1780 - d. 6/8/1859.

Rev. John D. Hon b. 4/20/1800, d. 8/11/1882 & Castria Hanks b. 12/23/1802 d. 2/21/1883. He is a brother to Isaac, William and Moses. I got these dates and names out of his old bible of 1818 printing. His wife was a sister of Isaac and Moses wives.

Nancy Hanks b. 11/23/1783, d. 8/2/1829. Samuel Hanks b. 2/5/1789 - d. 9/18/1829. They had Josephine M. Magowen & James M. Magowen (adopted children). I think John M. Magowen was their father b. 10/28/1806. I think Acland Hanks died 9/5/1835 was a brother of Samuel and an Uncle to the three Hanks sisters.

Have you ever found anything on William Hon, my Great Grandfather: I know less of him than of any of them. John, Moses Jasper, are the other ones I do not have anything on - my grandfather's brothers. Who did you get the one from about Isaac D. Hon and Peter M. Hon? Could you give me their addresses? Most of them went to Missouri and Kansas at first, then to Iowa. During the 1st world war a major told me he knew a lot of Hons in that state.

In the letter about Peter M. Hon at the bottom of the page (and Joseph Hon, Jonas Hon could have been an uncle to Joseph, Jr. and brother to Joseph, Sr. but this P. M. Hon's father was William and his mother a Darnell. I remember the Stewarts coming here to visit us once. Her name was Mollie, a sister to Ella). (Note: Walter Hon is referring to the old letter you sent me written by P. M. Hon about Joseph & his mother being captured by Indians).

One Thing I do know - our Joseph is not Mamie Hon's Joseph because Joseph Jr. and his mother (and one sister) were captured by Indians and held by them for 6 years before Joseph Sr. found them and bought Joseph and his mother back. The sister strayed from the camp and a man from New York found her. She remembered where she was from and came back on a visit once. She was adopted by this man. His name was Fry and he was very rich. He did not have any other children. Joseph Sr. moved to the upper part of Montgomery county to keep the Indians from finding him. The daughter's name was Kitty Fry. She came back after she was married.

There is not any dates on Joseph Hon's grave marker. He could have been born in 1742 and died in 1835. My father said had 3 grandfathers who lived to be in their 90s. That would have made him 93. On Peter Hon's grave marker b. 1791 - d. 3/21/1876 and also the Hon graveyard in Powell Co., Ky. Alvin Hon b. 3/20/1873 - d. 9/2/1916. Yes, Peter was a son of Isaac. Isaac was a son of Peter Keathley Hon.

Samuel Hanks was b. Feb. 5, 1780 and d. Sept. 18, 1829

Nancy Hanks was b. Nov. 23, 1873 and d. Aug. 2, 1829

They were parents of the three Hanks sisters who married the three Hon brothers.

Deed Books show that Joseph Hon bought land in 1800-1813. In 1850 he owned 500 acres in Powell County.

Dr. Noka B. Hon is a descendant of Moses Hon, son of Joseph P. Hon.

Samuel & Nancy Hanks had Josephine M. Magowan and James M. Magowan - adopted children. John B. Magowan was probably their father, born Oct. 29, 1806. I think Acland Hanks died Sept. 5, 1835 - was a brother to Samuel and uncle to the three Hanks sisters.

At the time Edward Hon was in the Odd-fellows Nursing Home there was a Gertrude Hon there. Gertrude and Edward found out that they were cousins - Gertrude and her family lived at Platte City, Missouri
